CASE STUDY with FileStream

Finance | Pensions | Insurance

A focus on security issues experienced by a finance and pensions company. This study explores how security issues can be overcome using FileStream

UTAX solve major data security breach within a finance and pensions company, using FileStream.

The Security Issue

A large Finance and Pensions organisation based in the UK discovered that their internal security systems were not sufficient.

This was because the client ID used to access individuals' pension portals was validated using customer names, which meant their system had no way of differentiating between customers with the same name.

As a result, customers were finding themselves accessing pension portals of other individuals with the same name as them. Clearly, this was a huge security breach which needed to be rectified.

The Solution

UTAX understood the urgency of the issue, and knew that using FileStream would be an effective way of resolving the issue. FileStream was able to use new algorithms which enabled it to use individuals' NI Numbers instead of their name to validate their client ID. With everyone within the UK having a different NI number, this ensured there was no possibility of the client ID being duplicated.
